

¶
Notes on Contributors		ix
Editor's Preface		xi
1	Gladiator from Screenplay to Screen Jon Solomon	1
2	Gladiator and the Traditions of Historical Cinema Martin M. Winkler	16
3	Gladiator in Historical Perspective Allen M. Ward	31
4	The Pedant Goes to Hollywood: The Role of the Academic Consultant Kathleen M. Coleman	45
5	Commodus and the Limits of the Roman Empire Arthur M. Eckstein	53
6	Gladiators and Blood Sport David S. Potter	73
7	Gladiator and the Colosseum: Ambiguities of Spectacle Martin M. Winkler	87
8	The Vision of a Fascist Rome in Gladiator Arthur J. Pomeroy	111
9	Gladiator and Contemporary American Society Monica S. Cyrino	124
10	The Politics of Gladiator Peter W. Rose	150
	The Major Ancient Sources	173
	Cassius Dio on Commodus	175
	The Augustan History : Commodus	188
	Herodian on the Death of Commodus	199
	Aurelius Victor on Commodus	203
	Chronology : The Roman Empire at the Time of Commodus	205
	Further Reading	207
	Index to Chapters 1-10	210